RINGING ROCKS AND SINGING STONES.—An item which is going the rounds in regard to what are called the "Ringing Rocks" of Pennsylvania, reminds us of a hill in this State which constantly emits a musical sound without being struck with a hammer or even being touched with anything. Of the Pennsylvania rocks it is said: "The peculiarity of these rocks is that upon being struck with a hammer or stone they ring with such a clear and prolonged sound that the curiosity and interest of the most indifferent visitor is immediately aroused. One sends forth a sound like that produced by a stroke upon an anvil; another one that resembles a clear sounding bell; another the prolonged ringing of the dinner-glass, still another the heavier and duller sound of the tinsmith's hammer, while some ring but little or none at all. It is no difficult matter to find several stones giving sounds that will perfectly chord with each other, and a musician might stand among them and, by striking different ones, probably play an air upon them. These stones are far heavier than ordinary ones, iron, no doubt, entering largely into their composition, and it has been imagined that a short distance under this vast pile a hollow place exists." The hill we have mentioned above is situated in the vicinity of Pyramid Lake, in the old Truckee Mining District, and the peculiar musical nature of the stones covering it was first observed by the prospectors who discovered the district and who had pitched their camp at the foot of the hill. For several nights they were puzzled and not a little startled by a peculiar, low musical tinkling which seemed to float upon the breeze, coming and going like the notes of an æolian harp. This occurring regularly every evening, when all was quiet, the miners set to work to solve the mystery, and soon found that the sound they had heard proceeded from small stones which formed a sort of drift near the base of the hill to a distance of about twenty feet. These stones emitted a tinkling sound, and their myriads of tinkling mingled together produced a musical murmur of considerable volume. The stones emitting these sounds were described as containing much iron, and some supposed that the musical tinkling was produced by magnetic action, while others thought that the whole drift of stones might be slowly working down the hill, and that the sounds were caused by the attraction of the fragments composing the mass. The district is now deserted, but while it was inhabited this hill was the one "lion" of the place to which all new comers were introduced.—Nevada Express.

THREE MONTHS ON A WRECK.—[From the Alta California, Nov. 6.]—On the 22d of June last, the American brig Shelchoff, 213 tons, was despatched from this port to Callate with a cargo of about 200,000 feet of lumber, valued at about $2,000. Her crew and passengers numbered in all twelve. She had a rough voyage down, and on the night of the 3d of July was caught in a cyclone. Fortunately the steamship Moses Taylor, on her downward trip from this city to Honolulu, encountered heavy weather, ran off her course for several hundred miles, and at nine o'clock on the morning of the 19th of October, in latitude 26 degrees 40 minutes north, longitude 148 degrees 52 minutes west, fell in with and boarded the wreck of the brig, and found one man, the captain, alive on the forecastle deck in an exhausted condition. All others, crew and passengers, had died from privation. The captain, who had been a man of 255 pounds, when discovered in the forecastle of his wrecked ship, weighed less than 120 pounds. The suffering he endured for over three months cannot be told; he literally subsisted on his own fat, as he had nothing to eat. His providential rescue came at the last moment, for it is believed it was his intention to end his sufferings the same day by taking vitriol and ink.

Capt. Hopken's account of the sufferings of his men and passengers is a most heart-rending one. After the death of the mate, on the 9th of July, none occurred till September 6th, when they began to become delirious and weak from hunger and thirst, and several died or jumped overboard in their delirium. Boils and disease, induced by hunger and salt water, added to the intensity of their sufferings. Nine or ten days before the steamer rescued him, Captain Hopken states that a bark ran down to the wreck, hove to for a few minutes, then squared away without sending off a boat or making any effort to rescue the lives of those on board, of whom there were eight then living. The bark came so near that persons could be seen moving about on her deck. Those on the brig were so weak as to be unable to stand, but got on their knees and waved pieces of sailcloth, hoping to attract attention. Their feelings, as they saw the bark square away when so near them, may better be imagined than described. Their last hope being gone, they lay down, and one after another died or leaped overboard.

WHAT THE DRUNKARD SAYS.—Mr. Me-Leod, an English writer, puts the following language in the mouths of those who visit the rumrunner's den:
"There's my money—give me drink! There's my clothing, and food and fire of my wife and children—give me drink! There's the education of the family and the peace of the household—give me drink! There's the rent I have robbed from my landlord, fees I have robbed from my schoolmaster, and innumerable articles I have robbed from the shopkeeper—give me drink! Poor me out drink for yet more—I will pay for it! There's my health of body and peace of mind; there's my character as a man and my profession as a Christian; I give up all—give me drink! More yet I have to give! There's my heavenly inheritance and the eternal friendship of the redeemed; there, there is all hope of salvation! I give up my Saviour! I give up my God! I give up all that is great and good and glorious in the universe; I resign forever that I may be drunk!"

A SIMPLE CURE.—We republish the following from an exchange. As it will cost but a trifle, and can do no injury, we advise those afflicted with the distressing disease to try it: F. D. Baker publishes a statement in which he says he was permanently cured of asthma of many years standing by the use of equal parts of pulverized sulphate and sugar burned in his room. A friend of his, so badly afflicted that she was obliged to rest in her chair at night, for months at a time, was also permanently cured by this simple remedy.

MEDICAL.

Baltimore Lock Hospital.
DR. JOHNSTON,
Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the world for all

DISEASES OF IMPURENESS.
Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to the victims than the songs of the Sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses—blighting their more brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

YOUNG MEN.
Especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or walked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness, or of Procreative Power—Impotency, Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. Johnston, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy intercourse, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constipation, Debility and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS.
Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury! Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON
Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the recipient of a diploma from the University of London, London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears, weakness, great nervousness, being alarmed at every sound, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin body and mind, unafflicting them for either business, study, society or marriage. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTAL.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Deceit, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN
